THE WORLD DISOWNS MR. JOHNSON.

The National Intelligencer, the special organ of President Johnson, expostulates piteously with the World for denying that Mr. JOHNSON does not belong to the Democratic party. The World replies, maintaining its position, and argues, at length, that the party would gain nothing by the accession of Mr. JOHNSON. It says "If Mr. Johnson wishes to join the Democratic party we suppose the doors are open," (Italics our's,) then adds: "What body of supporters has President Johnson in the Republican party so attached to him and his policy that they are ready to follow him into the Democratic ranks? How many are they in number, and where are they to be found? The President has, to be sure, some remaining patronage; but we honestly doubt whether he can influence any considerable number of votes by any other means. But we need more votes than patronage can buy; and it does not seem to us probable that a hesitating Republican would change sides with any more alacrity for the sake of accompanying the President."

This, of course, has two sides, and is as much intended to relieve Mr. JOHNSON of the odium of democracy as the democracy of the odium of Mr. JOHNSON. Privately they are very good friends, and work into each other's hands like two city sharpers intent of relieving a country gentleman of the contents of his portmonie.

THE DEMOCRATS talk about a reaction in Pennsylvania to be disclosed at the October election. That matter will get no farther than talk. There has been no re-action. There will be none. The people have not changed their judgments of public affairs. There are at least two radicals now where there was only one last year; and not a Republican less. Whatever doubt there was a month ago about getting out all the votes, there is no longer any uncertainty. The Republican voters will be on hand, and renew their condemnation of the President and his Policy.

SOME MONTHS ago the Chicago Times, the leading Democratic journal of the Northwest, astonished the country by endeavoring to prevail on its political friends to accept the consequences of Emancipation and the defeat of the Rebellion. The event has proved its conjunctures were wiser than their party. So incessant and vigorous a war has been made upon them that they have been compelled to sell out. The Times has passed into the hands of Mr. Harmon, formerly of the Detroit Free Press.

The political canvas in Ohio grows in interest. Greater depth is observable in the discussions on both sides, with less froth, nonsense and buffoonery. The democrats dwell minutely upon the questions of finance and tariff duties; while the republicans give special eminence to the matter of reconstructing the Union. The democrats trust they will carry Ohio just as they bray of carrying Pennsylvania, but that is a harmless recreation, which does them no good, and the republicans no harm.

AT Cincinnati two men, both of whose legs have been amputated close to the body, ran a race on their hands around the ring of the fair grounds, three-fourths of a mile. There was a great crowd, and much betting was done; but slow and steady did not win, for the heavy man of muscle was beaten by his lighter and more agile rival.

THE Cincinnati Times says President Lincoln was a "demagogue and ignoramus" for saying that the authors of the Declaration of Independence believed that "all men are created equal." They certainly made a mistake, for the Times editor can certainly not be thought the equal of any decent man.

JACOB ZEIGLER has been appointed by the Secretary of the Treasury and the Commissioner of Internal Revenue to the office of Revenue Inspector for the XIXth and XXth Districts of Pennsylvania, and the XXXIst District of New York, embracing the city of Buffalo.

G. W. HECKER is the Democratic candidate for Senator in the Erie and Crawford district. There are dissensions among the Republicans of this district; but Mr. Lowry, their candidate, will unquestionably be elected.

THE Republican rally in Allegheny last evening was decidedly the best in numbers and spirit so far this season. The ball increases in size and momentum as it rolls. Republicans! keep it moving.

Troops Departed for Sitka—Transfer of the Property of the Russian Fur company—Arizonia Legislature—Governor's Annual Message—The California Election—Appeal for the Union Judicial Ticket—Destructive Fire, &c.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 26, 1867.

The steamer John L. Stephens got off last evening with two companies of troops for Sitka, under Jeff. C. Davis, and a considerable quantity of live stock and supplies. The buildings for the troops are nearly ready at Sitka. They may have to camp about two weeks. About thirty mechanics and laborers accompanied the troops. The "Stephens" will touch at Victoria to land and receive passengers.

One of the passengers to Sitka is Henry Ballier, agent of a San Francisco company which succeeds to the property of the Russian Fur Company, and to the negotiations of which the entire trading privileges led to the acquisition of Alaska. The deed of the transfer was signed Tuesday night by the directors of the San Francisco Company and Kustoff, agent of the Russian Company, in consideration of six hundred thousand dollars. This bargain secures to the American company all the vessels, factories, lands, houses, implements, stock, goods and trading facilities generally of the Russian Company.

Governor M'Cormick, of Arizona, delivered his annual message to the Legislature on the 9th inst., which was mostly occupied with the discussion of the Indian troubles; thinks the territory should be made a separate military department, calls for more troops, and urges the necessity for putting all the Indians on reservations, employing sufficient force to keep them there; that good machinery is needed for the development of the mineral wealth of the territory. The public indebtedness is $28,000. currency. The agricultural prospects are excellent. Arable lands in the aggregate are extensive and fertile.

Complete returns from all the counties in the State show a total vote of 92,198. Haight, 49,858; Gorham, 42,340; Fay, 2,000. Haight over Gorham, 9,604. The average democratic majority is scarcely more than half this figure.

State Fair at Lawrence—Mass State Temperance Convention—Addresses by Senator Pomeroy, Ex-Governor Robinson, Mrs. Elizabeth Cady Stanton and Susan B. Anthony—Temperance People Pledged to Female Suffrage, &c.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

LAWRENCE, Sept. 26.—The Kansas State Fair is now being held here. The display of stock, fruits, grain and domestic manufactures is large and highly creditable to this young State, and gives abundant evidence that as a stock and grain growing section the State of Kansas fully equals any western State.

A mass State Temperance Convention was held last night and addressed by Senator Pomeroy, Ex-Governor Robinson, Elizabeth Cady Stanton, and Susan B. Anthony. Resolutions were passed committing the temperance people to female suffrage, to prevent the repeal of the temperance laws of last winter, to the abrogation of which the Germans pledged themselves in their Convention on the 23d.

WASHINGTON, PA.

[Special Correspondence Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, PA., Sept 25, 1867.

The Pittsburgh Synod of the United Presbyterian Church is in session here. It convened last evening, and was opened by a sermon from Rev. J. T. Brownlee, of Middletown, Washington county, Pa. His theme was, "The Unity of the Church," on which he delivered an interesting and profitable discourse.

At the conclusion of the religious services, the Stated Clerk, Rev. W. J. Reid, of the First U. P. Church, Pittsburgh, called the roll, and some fifty members answered to their names. Three candidates for Moderator were presented by nomination. On the second ballot Rev. D. W. Collins, of Blairsville, Pa., was duly elected. His remarks, on taking the Chair, were brief and sensible. He looks like a substantial man, characterized rather for solidity than brilliancy. He makes an efficient officer. The Stated Clerk, Rev. Mr. Reid, fills his position admirably. Physically considered, he is well developed. A stranger ought not to look at him, lest he might be tempted to a breach of the tenth commandment. Rev. Reid is a practical and pungent instructor of that classic maxim, "Laugh and grow fat." With his fine physique, he has what is still better in good health, a vigorous and well cultivated intellect. He is admirably fitted to the strong and efficient work in the Church.

The Assistant Clerk is Rev. J. D. Walkinshaw, of West Newton, Pa.

The Synod embraces some one hundred and forty ministers. About one hundred are present to-day.

The business transacted up to this time has not been of a very interesting character. A brief session is anticipated.

LAWYERS SUSPENDED.

The case of Little and Ruth, the two lawyers charged with unprofessional conduct, in the trial of Fogler, has been argued and upon by the Court. Little is suspended from practice at the bar for two years, and Ruth for one. Judge Ewing delivered a lengthy and able opinion in the case.

The punishment inflicted upon these two gentlemen is fully the limit, and it is hoped that they and others may profit thereby.

GOOD TEMPLARS.

These are rapidly on the increase here. At every weekly meeting their number is augmented. Last night there was a large accession to the Lodge of Good Templars, and measures are being taken to organize Lodges in all the towns throughout the county. These friends of temperance mean earnest work. Heaven prosper them in it.

POLITICAL.

The Republicans do not seem as vigilant as they ought to be. In talking it for granted that success at the coming election is certain. A little more effort would make it doubly sure; that effort is imperatively demanded. Grave issues are just now at stake. AMICUS.

Interesting About Furs.

St. Paul, Minnesota, may be justly claimed as the largest primary fur market on the continent. St. Louis, for a number of years, held the first rank in the fur market of America. It was supplied from the great Rocky Mountain district, and from the plains. But the most of the trade was in buffalo hides. These do not strictly come under the head of furs. In the legitimate fur trade, St. Paul now leads even that market. The fur trade commenced here at a very early day, mainly under the auspices of the American Fur Company. Minnesota was at that time the seat of the trade. When St. Paul sprang into existence the trade was down to that point, and was one of the main causes that aided in making that city the commercial emporium of that region.

The past five or six years the trade has amounted to from $250,000 to $800,000 annually. This business is conducted by only some half a dozen houses. The furs purchased there are mainly from the Red river region. Many of them are from the British Possessions, and are brought down by the Dembina carts. Some are caught by trappers way down the Jumeau river, Sheyenne and other streams in Dakotah Territory. They spend all winter in their camps, trapping, and sometimes their gains are quite large. The price of furs, especially the choicer and rarer qualities, has been very high lately. Thus the mink, which was once a rejected fur, has now become the most fashionable of all, rising from 37½ cents to $6 and $7 per skin. The Hudson Bay Sable, ranging in the markets of the world as next to the Russian Sable, is also another very valuable fur. The Silver Fox, Otter, and others, are also choicer kinds bought there. Manufacturing furs is quite an extensive business there, and is annually increasing.

Body of Maximilian on Exhibition.

A Queretaro correspondent of the New York Tribune says that Maximilian's body is kept on exhibition in Queretaro, in a dirty second-story room. A soldier guards the door, but admits all who will pay the admission fee. He opens the coffin in the centre of the room, resting upon a couple of rude wood benches. It is covered with black cloth, adorned with a cheap quality of gold lace, the top of which has a false cover or lid, opening which case revealed three glasses, through which the silent form of the ill-fated Austrian was shown by the aid of a penny tallow candle kept by the soldier for visitors' use. The Emperor was dressed in a suit composed of a blue coat, with a row of brass buttons in front, dark blue pants and heavy cavalry boots. His hands were covered with a pair of white gloves, very much soiled. His mouth and eyes were open, the former displaying his teeth and the color of his eyes. His beard is quite gone, as well as the greater part of his hair, which, I am informed, has been cut off by Dr. Lisso, who had charge of the embalment, and sold, for which he got as high as five ounces—$80—for small locks of the same. The body of the Emperor remained at Lisso's house until last week, when it was removed to its present location, during which time he had made use of it as a means of speculation. He also disposed of whatever effects belonging to Maximilian he could obtain, and charging large sums for small pieces of his blood stained garments, which he cut up and sold. It is also alleged that he has even removed small portions of the skull, for which he obtained a large sum, replacing it with wood. I cannot vouch for this, but it has general belief here.

—A singular curiosity in Martin county, Indiana, is thus described: "It stands alone in the dense forest, a gigantic stone jug about fifty feet in height, about five feet in diameter at the base, eight feet middle, and two feet at the top, upon which rests a broad flat rock, about ten by fifteen feet, covered with bushes and wild ivy; and some three feet from the center stands a small tree. The rock is a great curiosity, and a view of it should never be lost by the traveler passing that way."

—A fine gymnasium has lately been erected at Dartmouth College, for the use of the students, at a cost of over $50,000. The building is of brick, two stories in height; the lower hall is fitted up as a bowling saloon, and contains six alleys for rolling; the upper hall is supplied with all the apparatus necessary for a first class gymnasium. There is also a gallery for the accommodation of visitors.

The Anticipated Election Trouble—Interview Between Gen. Thomas and the City and State Authorities—Incendiary Speech of Gen. Cooper—Feverish State of the Public Mind.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NASHVILLE, Sept. 26, 1867.

Gen. Thomas arrived last night late and had a conference to-day with the city authorities and those of the State, but took no decisive action. He requested an interview with both parties together at 3 p. m., to-morrow, when his course will be resolved upon.

There is still an anxious and feverish state of public mind, increased to-night by rumors that the Conservatives intend to defeat election. The feeling is intensified by a report that Gen. Cooper last night, in a speech to a meeting of negroes, said if whites within closed doors, said there were three ways to meet the present emergency, to wit, by bullets and bayonets, or by matches.

It is reported to-night in Conservative quarters that the Grand Jury are investigating the matter, and will indict Cooper if proof of the speech is sufficient. Cooper's friends are confident of acquittal if indicted, as one used a long time for these experiments and has withstood some of the severest tests.

THE CAMPAIGN.

Meeting in the Allegheny Diamond—Old Allegheny County Aroused—Speeches of Gov. John W. Geary and Hon. J. H. Campbell, of Pennsylvania, and H. Stockett Mathews, Esq., of Maryland.

The Republicans of Allegheny city turned out en masse last evening to attend the meeting in the Diamond. The crowd was large, numbering not less than three thousand persons, and the enthusiasm demonstrated on the occasion plainly indicates that the loyal masses of Old Allegheny county are fully awake to the responsibilities resting upon them, and they are prepared to meet the issues of the approaching contest with a bold front, and will roll up such a majority on the second Tuesday of October as will strike terror into the hearts of the modern democracy, and cause the reaper, Andrew Johnson, to tremble with fear and despair. A stand for the use was erected in front of the city building for the accommodation of the speaker, and the Great Western band was in attendance to favorst the vast multitude which had assembled at an early hour with excellent music, until the hour for organizing had arrived.

Mr. Myler called the meeting to order and moved that it be organized by the election of the following officers:

President—Hon. S. A. Purviance.

Vice Presidents—John Atwell, John Heath, C. L. Magee, Dr. J. Redick, C. P. Jennings, J. D. Cameron, George Gerst, Simon Drum, John A. Myler, Jas. McBrier, Arthur Lappan, Alex Patterson, Geo. Parkin, John Brunot, John Morgan, S. H. Geyer, John K. Brown, Jas. W. Hall, August Miller, ——Lappan, Alex Patterson, Geo. Parkin, John C. Harper, John A. Parke, Edwin Coates.

Secretaries—Guyan M. Irwin, A. P. Callow, Geo. S. Brown, Chas. Cramer, Lewis Morell, and the reporters of the press.

The President, Mr. S. A. Purviance, in a brief address thanked the meeting for the honor conferred upon him in placing upon him to preside over it, and after stating the object of the meeting, introduced who spoke in substance as follows: He had been a member of the Whig Party, and had fought under the banners of Clay and Webster, but he now claimed no higher credit or made no higher boast than to be a member of the glorious Republican party, in '56 he had been sent to Europe by this great and good party, to assist in electing Buchanan President, and in '64 he was sent on the same mission to elect Lincoln. He had come home to-night on the same old errand.

HON. J. H. CAMPBELL,

There were three questions before the Buckeye Club Course to-day. First, Cincinnati stake for two years old, one mile dash, entrance $50, play or pay, the latter part of July. Nine entries were made, but only three horses started, namely Banshee, Spinola, and General Knox. The latter horse, Banshee coming in second. Time, 1:45½. This race is the quickest ever made in America for two years old. The last horse came in inside of 1:46. The second race, one mile dash, purse $300, free for all ages; Lowdown, Skylight and Caledonia were the contestants in the race; time, 1:47¾. The third race, two mile heats, purse $500, free for all ages; two entries were made, Lexington and Pocahontas. The former took both heats; time, 3:46 and 3:51.

Base Ball Match Games—The Buckeye Club Course Races.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

CINCINNATI, Sept. 26.—About five thousand people assemble at the grounds of the Cincinnati Club to-day to witness different match games of base ball. This morning the "Live Oaks," of Cincinnati played the "Walnut Hills," and beat them badly. The great game of the day and of the tournament took place this afternoon between "Hickory," of McConnellsville, and the Buckeye Club of this city, and proved to be an exciting contest of three hours, the Cincinnatis came off victorious.

There were three races at the Buckeye Club Course to-day. First, Cincinnati stake for two years old, one mile dash, entrance fee $50, play or pay, the latter part of July. THE CAMPAIGN.

Meeting in the Allegheny Diamond—Old Allegheny County Aroused—Speeches of Gov. John W. Geary and Hon. J. H. Campbell, of Pennsylvania, and H. Stockett Mathews, Esq., of Maryland.

The Republicans of Allegheny city turned out en masse last evening to attend the meeting in the Diamond. The crowd was large, numbering not less than three thousand persons, and the enthusiasm demonstrated on the occasion plainly indicates that the loyal masses of Old Allegheny county are fully awake to the responsibilities resting upon them, and they are prepared to meet the issues of the approaching contest with a bold front, and will roll up such a majority on the second Tuesday of October as will strike terror into the hearts of the modern democracy, and cause the reaper, Andrew Johnson, to tremble with fear and despair. A stand for the use was erected in front of the city building for the accommodation of the speaker, and the Great Western band was in attendance to favorst the vast multitude which had assembled at an early hour with excellent music, until the hour for organizing had arrived.

Mr. Myler called the meeting to order and moved that it be organized by the election of the following officers:

President—Hon. S. A. Purviance.

Vice Presidents—John Atwell, John Heath, C. L. Magee, Dr. J. Redick, C. P. Jennings, J. D. Cameron, George Gerst, Simon Drum, John A. Myler, Jas. McBrier, Arthur Lappan, Alex Patterson, Geo. Parkin, John Brunot, John Morgan, S. H. Geyer, John K. Brown, Jas. W. Hall, August Miller, ——Lappan, Alex Patterson, Geo. Parkin, John C. Harper, John A. Parke, Edwin Coates.

Secretaries—Guyan M. Irwin, A. P. Callow, Geo. S. Brown, Chas. Cramer, Lewis Morell, and the reporters of the press.

The President, Mr. S. A. Purviance, in a brief address thanked the meeting for the honor conferred upon him in placing upon him to preside over it, and after stating the object of the meeting, introduced

DO NOT BE DECEIVED.

Let no Republican Workingman suffer himself to be deluded into the silly belief that the "Labor ticket," or any man on it, has the slightest chance of success.

We know that Mr. BURT, in some of his speeches, has done his best to encourage this belief; but a glance at the figures will show that there is no foundation for such an expectation.

The utmost that any man in the "Labor" movement claims for its ticket, is 7,000 votes; the enthusiastically sanguine claim 6,000; the moderate men say 4,000; whilst very few politicians of any party concede them over 3,000.

But admit for a moment, simply for argument's sake, that the ticket may poll the outside figure claimed for it—7,000. There are 35,000 voters in this county; and how can 7,000 votes, deducted from 35,000, beat any figure into which the remaining 28,000 can be divided between the two national parties? The dullest of Mr. BURT's scholars must be able to demonstrate on the blackboard the impossibility of electing any ticket in Allegheny county with only 7,000 votes.

But no man of sense in this county believes that the ticket will receive the half of seven thousand votes; and any man who will reflect for a moment upon the facts will see that every vote given to it is simply a vote thrown away.

The only possible effect of a third party ticket in this county, beyond the throwing away of the votes cast for it, would be to increase the chances of electing the Democratic ticket. It is to this end that the Democratic politicians encourage the "labor" ticket; it was to attain this end that Democratic ward politicians were sent in as delegates to the "Labor" County Convention; and it is to accomplish this result that the Democrats now taking part in the "labor" movement will pretend to be earnestly in favor of it until they have seduced Republicans into voting for its ticket, and will then themselves vote the straight-out Democratic ticket.

Let no Republican suffer himself to be tricked in this way. Every vote cast for a third ticket is half a vote cast for ANDREW JOHNSON and Revolution! Do you want to see the country plunged again into war? You cannot help to produce that lamentable consequence better than by thus indirectly helping Mr. JOHNSON's Democratic allies.

Every true patriot must see that this is no time to be bringing up side issues or to be playing into the hands of the enemy. Mr. JOHNSON construes every reduction of Republican majorities, no matter how effected, into an endorsement of his revolutionary policy. Are you willing, Republican reader, to have your vote counted in that way? If not, reject all the temptations of the enemy and vote the whole Union ticket.

THE IMPENDING REVOLUTION.

The World makes merry over the statement of Senator THAYER that "ANDREW JOHNSON meditates or designs forcible resistance to the authority of Congress," and in the same column announces an impending revolution in Tennessee. The charter of Nashville, granted in 1856, confines the right of voting to "white males." The city authorities have determined to hold the municipal election on Saturday, under this charter, in defiance of the Reconstruction Acts, or Franchise Law of the State. This purpose the World states without a sign of disapprobation, and if this is not a declared intention of resisting the authority of Congress by force, we are at a loss to know what it is. If the rebels of Nashville can set up their old charter as a rallying point from which to resist the national and State law, why can not the same class of men, on the same principle, resist the authority of Congress in Washington and elsewhere on the pretended authority of the old Slave Code, which Mr. JOHNSON and his adherents hold to be eminently constitutional? The principle is the same in both cases. Mr. JOHNSON is of the party opposed to Congress and its plan of reconstruction. If that party, or a portion of it, can forcibly resist the authority of Congress in Nashville, why not extend the tactics?

THE ARREST OF GARIBALDI.

Contrary to our hopes and expectations the Italian revolution has already reached a termination. The news of GARIBALDI's capture startles us. We do not understand it. Did the hero of many battles act in concert with the government? Was it a pre-arranged affair? Or was it a poorly planned and more poorly executed expedition, which a few constables could defeat and terminate? Either GARIBALDI has played false—which we do not believe—or he has shown bad judgment, which construction would be scarcely more agreeable to us. The King, on the other hand, has acted in a manner still more incomprehensible. The condition of affairs is such that it could hardly be more favorable for the acquisition of Rome, which is an absolute necessity, if Emanuel intends to unify Italy. Not to have Rome would be like having a house and not be permitted to use its most essential apartment. Why then does he not seize the golden opportunity that offers? We think we can divine the reason. He does not want to receive any more favors from a man to whom he is already too deeply indebted; a man whose fame and glory threaten to outshine his own. He looks at Rome like a ripe fruit, that sooner or later must fall into his lap without any effort; why then owe it to a man that represents liberty and popular sovereignty?

ALLEGHENY COUNTY.

Though the Republicans of this county were rather tardy in starting the canvass, they are now making up abundantly for early deficiencies. They are now in motion. The work of organizing the wards and townships has been steadily prosecuted for ten days past, and will be completed in ample time. The meetings held last night in Allegheny, and the night before in Pittsburgh, were immense, inspiriting, conclusive. The people are aroused to the magnitude of the issue. Disclosures made of the purposes of the President and his supporters, have enkindled their patriotic indignation. Henceforward to the day of the election there will be no supineness; no lethargy; no holding back. Faction will be ignored. Side issues will be set aside. The main object will be kept constantly in view; and a victory, worthy of our old renown, and that will electrify the State and nation, will be gained.

WORKINGMAN'S PARTY.

None but a party of general principles, and general progress, can be a true and effective workingman's party. The race is so bound together by ties of mutual dependence, and mutual brotherhood, that no class can seek its own separate aggrandizement, and succeed, without causing injury to all other classes, and eventually to itself. When carpenters, by combination, raise the price of labor in their department, they raise house rent. The lawyer and doctor must have a heavier fee, the editor a larger salary, and so on to the end. At every turn your carpenter pays back, to society, a tax on that increase of wages; and generally the tax more than counterbalances the increase. Every advance of wages in the trades raises the price of agricultural labor; and when it gets beyond paying prices fields be uncultivated for want of hands. Your better paid mechanic feels the effect of his high wages in the increased price of every barrel of flour, every pound of butter, every peck of potatoes. If the puddler, boiler or moulder have an increase of wages, that same puddler, boiler or moulder, as well as the carpenter, mason and hod-carrier pays the increase in the price of his stove, his kettle and frypan.

If the working men elect a Legislature the members must be paid, and if they can limit the hours of labor for mechanics, farm and other laborers, and raise the rate of wages, they must be paid more than legislators now receive, for flour and butter and stores and house rent and fuel and everything else must rise in proportion to the wages. Every workingman must pay so much the more for everything he consumes; and for the services of the other working men who minister to his necessities. The working doctor and lawyer and editor must have bread and meat, and who is benefitted by the change?

The true workingman's policy is the promotion of general principles which regard all men as brothers, and aids each one to learn all he can and work all he can, produce all he can and so add to the general wealth. Put no restrictions on any one's right to dispose of his own labor more than his own money; and each in doing the best for himself is doing the best for all. Combinations directed to these ends cannot be otherwise than commendable; for the design is to seek the welfare of each in the advantage of all. So far as existing organizations contribute to these ends, no matter how imperfectly, they are better than nothing, and may ultimately lead to precisely that which is most desirable.

Pittsburgh, Allegheny County, and the Suupreme Court.

In 1790 the present county of Allegheny contained only a population of 10,309 souls, and Pittsburgh but 1200 inhabitants.

To-day, Allegheny county has increased her population to 250,000, whilst Pittsburgh, which, with its surrounding municipalities, it is proposed to consolidate like our own great city, will have 175,000, and is not only the second city of our State, but takes its rank in wealth, population, and industry, among the first cities of the Union. It is situated on two navigable rivers dividing it into three parts, connected by large and magnificent bridges. It is a great railroad centre—railways running into it from every quarter of the compass, and by the Pennsylvania Central it is brought within fourteen hours of our Eastern commercial metropolis. The waters of the Monongahela, Allegheny, Ohio and Mississippi, connect it with the States of New York, and with Virginia, and with New Orleans, and all the cities and towns on those streams.

Its people are industrious, kind, generous, and hospitable, and deserve at our hands the most liberal treatment.

Three of the Judges of the Supreme Court are Philadelphians, the two who are not natives of our city having built or purchased dwellings in it, and are leading members in two of our largest churches, and have, with their families cast their lots with us. Philadelphia has therefore three members of our highest judicial tribunal, and the Democrats propose to add a fourth Philadelphian, so as to give one city four, and the rest of the State but one representative on the bench of the Supreme Court. Five years hence Judges Thompson and Strong come up for re-election, and the argument against their renomination will be that they are Philadelphians, which would be infinitely strengthened by the election of another Philadelphian this fall. Of this truth the numerous friends of those gentlemen must be aware, as well as of the fact that the Interior of the State will never be satisfied with an eligible part of the population of the State monopolizing four-fifths of the Supreme Court.

Pittsburgh has presented to us, as their candidate, a gentleman not only highly acceptable to the bar and the citizens of Allegheny county, but of the whole West, who are familiar with his legal and judicial career. Judge WILLIAMS is a great commercial and constitutional lawyer, in the daily habit of dealing with the questions necessarily arising out of the commerce and business of a thriving, energetic, industrious, and populous community. His decisions are remarkable for their clearness and precision, and sound and mature judgment, whilst his judicial demeanor is so perfect as to make him not only respected, but beloved by all his fellow-citizens.

This gentleman, thus qualified by his eminent ability and learning, is presented as the Union Republican candidate for Judge of the Supreme Court. To all good Republicans, he comes with the highest possible recommendation—the recommendation of a county which will give him 10,000 majority. In voting for him, the only State candidate on our ticket, we secure our patriotic State from Democratic and Presidential misrule, and sustain our noble Congress in the great work of reconstructing the rebel States.

Every Republican vote for Judge Sharswood is a vote for Andrew Johnson and his Democratic friends. With this before his eyes, every honest, consistent Republican who loves his country will vote for Judge Williams, who is right on all the great constitutional questions and principles of the day, which it is the effort of the Democratic party and its leaders, Wood, Black, Vallandigham and Pendleton, to overthrow and destroy. Can any Republican hesitate for a moment to do his full duty by going to the polls on the 8th of October and casting his vote for Henry W. Williams as Judge of the Supreme Court?—Press.

Women Emigrating to Australia.

Miss Rye has just sent out from England another company of young women who are to settle in Australia. The arrangements for their voyage is described as follows:

"The between deck, two hundred feet long by thirty eight feet broad, is devoted entirely to the single women, the majority of whom are going out to join friends and relations already settled in Victoria. The sleeping berths lie right and left of the ship's side, with long forms and movable tables running in parallel lines in front of the berth. The stern is fitted up as a large bathroom, accommodating twenty girls at a time, the matron taking her place in a little wooden house at the foot of the gangway. The cook house is large and fitted up with every convenience; food, including bread, could be prepared easily for a thousand persons. Dr. Normanby's distilling apparatus was there, so that not only do the girls get an unlimited supply of water, but the overflow is also collected on to the deck to flush closets, and supply the tanks where the girls wash their clothes. We also noticed Dr. Edmond's ventilator; and it would be difficult for a ship to be more thoroughly furnished for the comfort and safety of passengers."

Miss Rye receives very favorable reports from her previous exportations. The rate of wages in the colonies continues high.

—A dish washing machine has been invented out west. The machine proper comprises a box sixteen inches long, ten inches wide and twelve deep (for water); two sets of brushes; a lever and a crank. The dishes are placed on a slide, worked by the lever, and are lowered between the brushes, which are moved backward and forward as briskly as may be required. By a peculiar construction of the wooden backs of these brushes, a current of water is continually thrown against the dishes sufficient to clean them of any ordinary substance, and the brushes are sure to remove any other article that may have adhered to them.

—Mr. Ernest Jones, at his recent lecture in Dublin, gave some interesting statistics. He said there were 71,000 acres in the three kingdoms. In 1770 there were 250,000 owners of this land. In 1856 the number had diminished to 32,640, and was still decreasing. The Duke of Cleveland might ride twenty-three miles through his estate; the Duke of Devonshire had 96,000 acres in the county of Derby alone; the Duke of Richmond possessed 340,000 acres, and the Marquis of Breadalbane might ride 100 miles in a straight line through his property from his own house door.

—The London Scapel gives the following as an infallible cure for small-pox and scarlet fever: Sulphate of zinc, one grain; fox glove (digitalis), one grain; half a teaspoonful of sugar, mix with two tables spoonful of water. Take a spoonful every hour. Either disease will disappear in twelve hours. For a child, smaller doses according to age. If countries would compel their physicians to use this, there would be no need of pest houses.

FACETIÆ.

—An aboriglo objects to marrying Miss Tail, the daughter of Spotted T., for fear he might get Candal lectures.

—The Commercial Bulletin gives seven jokes on the regatta, which, it says, were all produced from "a single scull."

—One night, in a thunder shower, a little voice from the "trundle-bed" called out: "O, mother, the dark is winking first it shuts up fine then it shuts down."

—"I am afraid, sir, you are in a settled melancholy."

"No, madam, my melancholy won't settle; it has too much grounds."

—The editor of the Lowell Courier, having had a present of pears from the City Almshouse, hopes that when obliged to take up his abode in that public institution it may be in the Fall.

—The following are among the signs over the shops of traders at Fort Smith, Arkansas: "Campbein and burnin flowr," "Ches Nuts biled and Roar," "Calfnest cheers Respected Hear," "Washing, ironin and goin out doin dais wurks dun here."

—"Poor Charley," said Quilp to his "worse quoter," "a hard time our house maid has of it, with all our work to do after setting things to rights in her own hovel." "How do you know about her house labors?" inquired Mrs. Quilp. "Why, of course Charley begins at home!"

—A fashionable friend, on taking leave of a young foreign who was living in a small apartment, said:

"Well Charles, and how much longer do you intend to stop in this nutshell?"

To which he replied:

"Until I become a kernel."

—They insure everything in Hartford from your own life to that of your dog, or the steam boiler that heats your house. Apropos of the recent rainy season, one of the insurance presidents was asked, "Why don't you start a company to insure against a deluge?" "That was the first ever granted," was the quick reply.

—The following conversation occurred between a graceless boy and his teacher:

"What does your father do when he sits down at the table?"

"He asks for the brandy bottle."

"I don't mean that. Well, then, what does your mother do when you sit down at the table?"

"She says she will wring our necks if we spill any grease on the floor."

—Wife and I were looking at some pictures, in which little naked angels were quite conspicuous. She called the attention of our wee daughter to them, and remarked:

"Lizzy, dear, if you are a good girl, and go to Heaven, you will be like these angels."

Lizzy looked up, with a lip that told at once she didn't appreciate the promise, and said:

"I want to be better dressed than that when I go to Heaven!"

—Teacher, watch the little feet,
Climbing o'er the garden wall,
Bounding through the busy street,
Ranging cellar, shed, and hall.
Never count the moments lost,
Never mind the time 'twill cost,
Little feet will go astray—
Guide them, teacher, while you may.

Teacher watch the little hand,
Picking berries by the way,
Making houses in the sand,
Tossing up the fragrant hay.
Never dare the question ask,
"Why to me this weary task?"
These same little hands may prove
Messengers of light and love.

—A correspondent furnishes the following: Our district school was kept at one time by a young man named Paine. Among the girls attending school was Patience M——, a lively, good-natured Miss of eighteen. It soon became evident that she was the favorite of the teacher, as nearly all his leisure time was spent in her company, and their smiles and love glances during school hours could not be passed unnoticed. One day W——, one of the boys, and a general favorite of the whole school, burst out in a fit of laughter, for being asked by the teacher for his reasons for so doing, he declined to answer. The teacher, however, insisted, and threatened to punish him, not only for laughing, but for refusing to answer. W—— said he would answer the question if the teacher would promise not to punish him. After some hesitation the teacher gave the required promise.

"I was thinking," said W——, "of the following line of Dr. Watts:

'See gentle Patience smile on Pain.'"

The effect upon the school can be better imagined than described.

—One more insane one,
Ruined for life,
The reason a plain one,
He's taken a wife.

Loving him tenderly,
This widow so fair,
Trim and so slenderly,
Took him in snare.

Where was his father?
Where was his mother?
Where was his sister?
Where was his brother?
Or was there no sharper one
Still than another.

For the bleak winds of March
He cares not a starver.
But his wife's "frowning arch"
Makes him tremble and shiver;
Once he looked boldly,
No matter how coldly,
Life's current ran,
The girls he could wink at them,
Smile at, and think of them,
Like a gay single man;
His miseries now shrink at them—
Be wise! wise when you can.

VIGOROUS VITALITY.

The best defence against disease is a vigorous vitality. Disease is simply a struggle between the life-power and the invisible enemies that assail it; and the result depends upon the relative strength of the antagonistic principles. In proportion to the vigor and energy of the physique and the constitution, is their capacity to resist and throw off the morbid influence which produces sickness. It has well known fact that active poisons affect in different degrees the weak and the strong. The dose of opium or of arsenic that will suffice to kill a child will scarcely shake a stalwart man. It is the same with the antidotes to which produce epidemic and endemic fevers, dysenteries, fluxes and the like. Their effect upon the system depends upon its power of resistance. Augment, therefore, this resistant power, if you would escape the evils. The tonic agent necessary to effect this object has been provided in

CURE OF FISTULA.

DR. KEYSER:—I write to thank you for your kindness and scientific management of my disease, for which I called to consult you some time in January last. You will remember that I had a complication of disorders which finally ended in a terrible fistula, which had been advised to "let alone" on account of a harassing cough, which it was feared might fasten on my lungs. I knew that the popular mode of treating diseases like mine was by a cutting operation, which, if successful at all, would naturally throw the disease upon the lungs or some other vital organ, on account of the suddenness of the cure and the immediate check to a discharge which I was constrained to believe was a salutary provision of Nature to get rid of some morbid condition in the system. I feel perfectly satisfied that your method of treatment, purifying to the system, and local applications to the fistulous part, must cure, if anything could, without cutting, which I find it did, and I am happy to report myself well in every particular, with sounder and better health than I have had for years. I would also add that the appliances you made were almost painless, and last left me a new man, with all the energies as vigor of restored health.

Yours, gratefully,
C——.

Messrs. Burke & Barnes, Pittsburgh, Pa.

GENTLEMEN—We ship you, to-day, by railroad, a safe of your make, for a few repairs. The safe went through the disastrous fire that occurred here on the 8th of March last, burning our store and warehouse, and we are glad to inform you that the papers taken out of the safe after the fire were not harmed in the least. We did not suppose any safe, especially so small a size, could possibly stand such a fire, and when we discovered the papers all safe and sound, we were agreeably disappointed. We will give you an order for a large size safe when we get into our new store. Truly yours,

THE COURTS.

Court of Quarter Sessions.

Thursday, Sept. 26.—Court of Quarter Sessions convened at 10 o'clock A. M., Hon. J. P. Sterrett on the bench.

ATTEMPTED HOMICIDE.

The case of the Commonwealth vs. Michael Leonard, indicted for felonious assault and battery, on oath of Patrick Graham, wherein it is alleged he attempted to kill on the night of the 26th of June, which was on trial when Court adjourned yesterday, was taken up this morning. The principal witness called by the Commonwealth, and the one on whose testimony they relied for a conviction, was Patrick Graham, who testified to the facts as stated yesterday, that he had met Leonard at Mo-Quade's tavern, in West Pittsburgh, and had some words with him. He afterwards left the tavern, and started home, and when near his house, on the railroad, he heard a shot close to him, and in an instant afterward heard something that sounded like as if a pistol had exploded in his head, and putting his hand up he felt the blood, and discovered that he was shot. He then cried "murder" several times, and while doing so he heard a voice behind him say in a tantalizing manner, "Ah, what is the matter with you now!" He recognized the voice as that of Michael Leonard, and in an instant afterward Leonard walked past him and went toward his home. A number of other witnesses were examined, whose testimony was mainly corroboratory in its character.

The counsel for the defense, in opening the case, intimated that they would rely on an alibi, but the witness by whom they expected to establish it was not present. They called a number of witnesses to prove that Leonard was a quiet, peaceable man. The arguments of counsel were very brief, and the charge of the Court clear and instructive on all the points in the case. The jury were out about half an hour when they returned a verdict of "guilty in manner and form as he stands indicted." Sentenced to pay costs of prosecution, a fine of six cents to the Commonwealth and undergo imprisonment of solitary confinement and hard labor for a term of six years in the Western Penitentiary.

BURGLARY.

Frederick Frauckner, Wm. Payne and John Harris were next arraigned on a charge of burglary. It appears that on Saturday night, the 7th of September, the defendants entered the grocery store of Patrick Barret at No. 14 High street, this city, by breaking a board off from over the back door, and that Barret being in the room went after an officer who came and arrested the parties in the building. The parties indicted were members of the fraternity of "mudlarks," and as a natural consequence the entire body of "muds" were called to establish a reputation for "their unfortunate pals," headed by Christy Bradford, and followed by a number of other "birds" of lesser note. The jury had not agreed upon a verdict at the hour of adjournment.

PLEAD GUILTY.

Lewis H. Hill, a negro boy about thirteen years of age, was arraigned on a charge of larceny, and plead guilty. The boy was charged with stealing nine dollars in paper money from John McTigh, who resides in Reineman's Court, Virgin alley. He was sent to the Court that several other boys had induced him to take the money and that he had divided it with them. The Court, in consideration of his age, sentenced him to the House of Refuge.

HELD TO ANSWER.

The evidence in the burglary case in which Patrick Barret was prosecutor, disclosed the fact that Patrick kept a disorderly house, and that he was in the habit of selling liquor of various kinds to all persons who called for it, and at the close of the case the Court ordered that Barret be held to bail in the sum of three hundred dollars to appear throughout the term, to answer the charge of selling liquor without license, in default of which he was committed.

DESTROYING A SHADE TREE.

Isaac Barnes was arraigned on a charge of malicious mischief. It was alleged by the prosecutor, S. F. Duncan, a resident of West street, Allegheny city, that the defendant had broken down a shade tree in front of his dwelling. The jury returned a verdict of guilty without leaving the box. The defendant was sentenced to pay a fine of $10 and the costs of prosecution.

The hour of adjournment having arrived, the Court announced to the jurors in attendance, that in consequence of the State Fair they had decided not to hold a session of Court Friday, and this being the second week of the term, they were discharged. Court then adjourned.

General Police Items.

COMMITTAL OF A PHILADELPHIA PICKPOCKET.

In Wednesday's issue of the Gazette we noticed the arrest of a character who gave his name as George Rogers, upon a charge of attempting to rob E. B. McClure, Esq., of West Middleton, Washington county, of a sum of money, on one of the street cars plying between this city and the Fair grounds, and his subsequent incarceration in the tombs. The offender was arraigned for a hearing before the Mayor yesterday forenoon, when he was identified by Mr. McClure and two other gentlemen who were in the car at the same time, and who witnessed the transaction. They formed stated that he felt a "curious movement about his pocket," and upon looking around saw the prisoner draw therefrom his pocket-book, containing over sixty dollars in money, whereupon he seized the thief and dragged him from the car. The fellow made a desperate resistance and would have succeeded in making his escape had it not been for the aid of one of our citizens, who assisted Mr. McClure, and held on to the culprit until the arrival of officer Buchanan, by whom he was conducted to the tombs.

Upon being asked what he had to say in response to the charges alleged against him, he stated, "I was not near the man at all; he is mistaken in the person." In default of $500 bail he was committed to prison for trial. And as Mr. McClure resides at a distance from the city, it is probable the Grand Jury will find a bill on Monday next, and his case will be disposed of at the earliest day as practicable. The prisoner is about twenty-five years of age, about five feet six inches in height, of dark complexion, wears a black cloth coat, blue vest, striped wool pantaloons, and is supposed to have operated extensively in this neighborhood during the past week. Mr. McClure announces his ability to prove that he attempted to rob another gentleman of his acquaintance.

MORE ROWDYISM IN THE FIFTH WARD.

At a late hour on Wednesday night, as officers Gordon, Molloy and Silvis were passing along Penn street, at its junction with Walnut, in the Fifth ward, they came upon a number of roughs, who were making night hideous with their oranies. The officers remonstrated with the parties and for a time all was quiet. Soon, however, they resumed their boisterous conduct and the officers repairing to the spot attempted to arrest Timothy Fullerton, one of the parties. To this the crowd demurred, and an attempt was made to rescue Fullerton, who was in the hands of Gordon. Officer Molloy, seeing that Gordon was being overpowered by superior numbers, went to his assistance, and Timothy, together with two others named Lanzie Seldon and William Thornford, were locked up in the tombs for the night. Upon a hearing before Acting Mayor Owsen yesterday, the two first named were fined ten dollars and costs each, and in default of payment were committed ten days; while Timothy Fullerton was fined twenty dollars, and in default of payment was sent up for thirty days. It has become impossible for respectable citizens to pass along the main thoroughfares leading through the Fifth ward, after nightfall without running the risk of being insulted or perhaps knocked down. The police on duty there do not appear to do their duty well, but the force ought to be double the number that it is.

AN EX-POLICEMAN IN TROUBLE.

William alias "Punch" Green, formerly a member of the Allegheny night watch, is alleged to have been guilty, in one respect at least, of conduct unbecoming a conservator of the public peace. A Miss Margaret Oswald appeared before Alderman Mullen, of the Fourth ward, Allegheny, yesterday, and made an affidavit to the effect that on the night of the 6th of February last, whilst she was passing the vicinity of the Third ward School House, Green accosted her and, after a few words of conversation, seized her violently and accomplished an intended object. The affiant is now in a delicate condition and asked for a warrant for the arrest of the party complained of. The writ was issued and placed in the hands of officer Bolster for execution, but the defendant cannot be found at present.

THE ATTEMPTED BOARDING HOUSE ROBBERY.

Al. D'Conman, the young man who, to use a term commonly in vogue among thieves, attempted to "rake" with a young man in the robbery of a boarding house on Second street, we noticed yesterday, had a hearing before Mayor McCarthy, and was held to bail in the sum of five hundred dollars for a further hearing. The prisoner alleges that he formerly boarded at the house of Mrs. Milner, and that he sent young Morgan to the house to procure some papers belonging to Mrs. M., to which he had a key; that he (Morgan) said there was one hundred and fifty dollars in the trunk, and proposed to take it, to which he demurred. He further alleges that there was no money in the trunk at the time. On the occasion of his arrest he had on his person a revolver, bowie knife and a policeman's star. In recounting for the prosecution of the latter he stated that he had been employed by an officer to act as a detective. A very likely story.

SURETY OF THE PEACE.

Adam Hook complained before Alderman Mullen, against one Alexander McCombs, for the above offence. Adam alleged that the defendant placed himself in a pugilistic attitude and threatened to do him great bodily harm. The offending party was arrested, and after the usual amount of "cabin music," the matter was amicably settled upon defendant paying the costs.

A Mrs. Thompson and Mrs. Osborne were informed against by Catherine Oswold, for a breach of the peace. The latter alleges that the two former threw a bucket of filth upon her, threatened bodily harm, &c. A warrant was issued.

CONJUGAL FELICITY.

Acting Mayor Owston committed Robert Manifold to jail for trial, on a charge of surety of the peace, preferred by his wife, Mary Manifold. Robert imbibes freely at times, in fact all the time, and his copartner has to bear the burdens of the household, hence the complaint.

A "CROSS" SUIT.

Mrs. Oswald, whose name is mentioned in another item, was informed against before Mayor Morrison, of Allegheny, yesterday, for acting in a very disorderly manner in the neighborhood in which she resides. The defendant was arrested and gave bail for her further appearance.

The Recent Champion Boat Race.

The controversy with regard to the sur render of the stakes in the recent race for the championship, between James Hamill, of this city, and Walter Brown, of Portland, Maine, is thus disposed of by the New York Clipper, of date September 28th. The fact that the backers of Brown had withdrawn their injunction was announced in our telegraphic columns yesterday. The Clipper says:

"The stakes, $2,000 a side, dependent on the late rowing match at Newburg, have been withheld on account of two protests being served on the stakeholder. Immediately after the race, but we understand that a meeting is to be held on Tuesday afternoon, at 2 o'clock, for the purpose of withdrawing these protests, and thereby enable Mr. Roberts to give the stakes up to the party to whom they rightfully belong. We have seen the notice of withdrawal of his part of the principal backer of Brown, and might have been able to announce that the $4,000 was on its way to Pittsburgh, only for the delay of its non-arrival, when it is paid, had little or a certain party, who is pecuniarily interested in the match stake. All who have no money in the match stake, but who have not given up bets to the winners who invested on Hamill, and they are very few, have no right to retain such moneys, but should give up the same as honest men. Suing is out of the question, and the decision of the referee, sue or no sue, should have been sufficient at the time."

CITY AND SUBURBAN.

THE STATE FAIR.

Yesterday the Greatest Day.

A MAGNIFICENT SUCCESS.

Twenty Thousand People in Attendance.

PURPORT AND SCOPE OF ARTICLES ON EXHIBITION

Thursday, the third of the State Fair, was the climax of its success. The weather was all that could be desired, clear and cool, but the discomfort produced by the dust, which was blown in clouds along the highways and everywhere on the exhibition grounds, was very great. The special trains of the Central Railroad, and the numerous cars of the Street Railway Company, failed in supplying adequate transportation for the outpouring of the masses. Whilst many walked long distances to the grounds, a very large number availed themselves of the accommodation afforded by hackmen and those who improvised conveyances for the occasion. By noon the number of people on the ground was estimated at from fifteen to twenty thousand, and one can well imagine the scene presented.

The race track was, during the greater part of the day, a principal point of attraction, and the large amphitheatre was crowded with those who preferred viewing with the greatest degree of comfort the performances of the contending horses. Nothing especially noteworthy occurred in this way, the track not being in good condition for fair tests of speed.

Shortly after noon the appearance of Superintendent Awdy with his House of Refuge boys attracted much attention. They marched through the grounds to the tune of the Carnahan band, and the little fellows seemed to enjoy their visit amazingly. The members of the press cheerfully gave up the building set apart for their convenience to the visiting boys for a brief space of time in order to allow them to occupy their gallery. After which they departed for their home.

The Fair in all respects is regarded as a complete success, and as the most and most satisfactory ever held by the State Society. It will prove highly remunerative, leaving a considerable margin after defraying the large expenses involved in preparing the grounds.

We continue our special notices of exhibitors and their productions:

G. M. LEITHEAD, OF EAST BIRMINGHAM,

Is on hand with a display of articles in his varied line of business, his efforts being mainly directed to the relief of suffering humanity. Among the valuable remedies offered by him is his patent compound for the cure of cholera infantum, so prevalent at this period of the year. It is also nominated the "Mother's Comfort," and in addition to the specialty of bowel affections, it is claimed to be very efficacious for sore or weak eyes, burns and scalds, &c. Mr. L. also manufactures a superior article of tomato catsup, for which he has a patent. His place of business is on Carson street, East Birmingham, where he also carries on the Agency.

W. J. LEITHEAD, 70 FIFTH AVENUE.

Those beautiful pictures displayed by W. H. Whitehead, in Artists' Hall, continue the centre of attraction, and draw universal commendation from the ladies who incessantly crowd that department of the Fair. Admiration is divided in accordance with the features of the various photographic art exhibited, some passing by carelessly what others regard as being specially meritorious, and thus all tastes are answered. The specimens shown by Mr. Whitehead in the state of perfection which Mr. Whitehead has arrived at in the art of photography, do not at all justify undue praise on our part, as a visit to his well known and long established gallery, at No. 68 Fifth street, conclusively proves. We would, therefore we advise all who desire to be further convinced of the superiority of the pictures which he produces, to give him a call. For truthfulness, artistic excellence and durability his work cannot be excelled in Pittsburgh. He enlarges small pictures, produces oil paintings, water colors and India ink pictures, outside views and family groups, likenesses of children and aged persons, small photographs of the size, and whatever other style is now in vogue in the photographers line.

OLIVER McCLINTOCK & CO.'S DISPLAY OF CARPETS.

Nothing could be more beautiful and attractive than the magnificent exhibition of Oil Cloths, Rugs, &c., made by that enterprising and well known firm, Oliver McClintock & Co., No. 23 Fifth street. All who enter "Diamond Hall" cannot fail to give the most unbounded admiration to the artistic arrangements of their most attractive articles or household furnishment.

These carpets, and they are many side by side, embrace the latest designs in patterns and colors, each seeing the most perfect of its peculiar style. The largest competition for saloons and parlors to the small figures for bed-rooms, libraries, &c., and from the striking and brilliant to quiet tints, all made beautiful by the harmony of many shades exquisite in softness.

All this magnificent display gives, however, but a specimen of the stock which our enterprising friends are just opening at their warerooms, 23 Fifth street, Spiendid Wilton, Brussels, Tapestry and Ingrain Brussels, bewilder the mind by their profusion and brilliancy of color and great variety of style and quality.

And their immense stock of Three Ply, Extra Ingrains, Low Priced Ingrains, Rag, Hemp and Cocoanut Carpets, China and Cocoa Mattings, Oil Cloths, Window Shades, Bordered Felt and Druggets, &c., is not surpassed in variety of quality, and pattern, and we assure our readers that these goods cannot be purchased in New York or Philadelphia for less than they are offered by Messrs. Oliver McClintock & Co., who are enabled to sell at such prices by the large expenses which they have every season with the European and Domestic manufacturers.

ARTISTIC PHOTOGRAPHS.

The visitor can profitably spend an hour at the rooms before the magnificent display of fine specimens of photography made by our well known artist, R. D. Dabbs, whose gallery is located at No. 54 St. Clair street. The photographs on exhibition were selected at random from the large collection of fine work which ordinarily graces the walls, cases and beautiful windows of the main rooms of the gallery, and have not been gotten up with any special plans for the occasion. The specimens are very clear and distinct and the only marvel is how all could have been obtained on the same picture which is proverbially heavy and dark. But Mr. Dabbs thoroughly understands the art, uses finest quality of instruments and best of chemicals and materials, and as a natural consequence, in his pictures rivals even the famous shadow pictures of Washington, Boston, Philadelphia and New York. The collection at the Fair embraces all styles and designs which are in vogue, from the chaste and neat album card photograph up to the full life size cabinet portrait. The same excellence prevails throughout. A description of them would receive earnest praise from those who examine them. The superiority of the ou colored pictures is at a glance, and even to those who are not art connoisseurs. While the crayon finished portraits and the delicate water colors and India ink are remarkable for their smoothness and fidelity to the subject. Those of our readers who are desiring correct, beautiful and artistic photographs, are invited to advance forward to Mr. Dabbs' gallery, which stands among the very first not only of the city but all the State.

WHEELER & WILSON SEWING MACHINES.

The universal renown of the Wheeler & Wilson Sewing Machine, with button hole attachment, which can be applied or taken off in a few minutes, is borne in fare more for instance witness the fine display of work executed by it at the agents' booth, on the fair grounds. The acme of perfection has been reached in its construction—the highest degree of excellence barely expresses the character of its performance, and the variety of sewing that it will do, embracing as it does fabrics of every kind and quality, entitles it to the world wide distinction it has attained. The Wheeler & Wilson Machine has been awarded by the Jury at the Paris Exposition, who awarded Messrs. Wheeler & Wilson the Medal of Honor, the First Gold Medal, over no less than eighty-two different competitors, for this coveted endorsement. Those who have taken the trouble to examine the various machines, know that there is such a thing as the best sewing machine, and the unanimous verdict of the most scientific judges awards to the Wheeler & Wilson the distinction, for it possesses in an equally well on all kinds of goods and combines all the special merits of every other machine in the market. It serves its every with systematic and unscrupulous fidelity. The Western agents are Messrs. Wm. Sumner & Co., No. 55 Fifth street, whose warerooom Fair visitors are cordially invited. Wheeler & Wilson's booth at the Fair will be found in Dodge's Hall.

THE FIFTH STREET EMPORIUM

of Smithson, Palmer & Co., notwithstanding the many other attractions in the city, consequent upon the holding of the State Fair, has been favored with very large audiences, crowds being drawn there by the very rare inducements offered to purchase and the varied stock of dry goods exposed for sale in their magnificent store-room. This house has become justly celebrated through the large portion of the country, mainly from the indefatigable enterprise of the proprietors in keeping up with the age, and in presenting to the public goods at prices surprisingly low. Doing business upon the principle of large sales and small profits, is the secret of the success of Smithson, Palmer & Co., and success gained in this way is all the more deserving from the fact that the public are proportionally benefited. Their business is of a varied character. While their trade in boots and shoes is a main feature, it is but one of the many specialties immense, it is but an adjunct. Upon their counters and shelves are displayed all the various articles of home furnishing, in the way of dry goods, especially adapted to the particular season at hand, and we would here just mention that in the particular matter of blankets customers can be well suited. Space will not permit us to enumerate here the vast assortment of articles for sale at the Emporium, but we would particularly urge upon strangers present at the Fair to attend the evening sales of Nos. 55 and 57 Fifth street, feeling assured they will be advantaged thereby.

JOHN B. HERRON & CO.—STOVES.

This firm make one of the finest displays in Dodge's Hall of their productions of any that we encountered on the ground, and a fair idea is afforded of the many improvements which have been made in a few years in the way of cooking and heating arrangements. The housekeeper, upon a mere casual examination, must be convinced that this branch of Pittsburgh manufactures has kept well up, if it is not in advance of many establishments in other matters. The exhibition of the "Estella Stove Works," —the name given the establishment of J. B. H. & Co.—will forcibly attract attention at once at the fair, and the fact cannot otherwise than reap substantial benefit thereby. Visitors, however, would do well to call at the warerooms and salesroom, No. 91 Liberty street, which will be found to contain the finest assortment of stoves for all purposes, and where grates are to be afforded for examination than could reasonably be expected in the crowd at the Fair. But, to speak more particularly, the firm have on exhibition the folding-door Franklin stove, so constructed as to be of most durable character. There are also two sizes of the celebrated "Rival" Cooking Stove, with and without the extension top. This is a cool burner, and bakes, broils, etc., better than any other, as we are assured by those who are using them, and have compared their merits with that of other cook stoves sold in this region. The visitor will see in this display two sizes of the equally famous "Globe" cook stove, a wood and coal burner, with and without the extension top. Both of these stoves enjoy a wide reputation for excellency and the demand for them is very great. There are also two sizes of the "Model" Hall Stove, which is extensively adopted in Western Pennsylvania, Eastern Ohio and West Virginia. It possesses the best features of a first class hall heater and is a fine ornament in a dwelling. We saw, also, the "Coral," a very beautiful and complete parlor stove which is enjoying a large sale; and, also, Henderson's Patent Heating Furnace for burning soft and bituminous coal. This is something entirely new. It is made on a new principle whereby the smoke, or volatile combustible is all consumed perfectly, uniformly and clearly. We were greatly pleased with the display, and we hope no visitor to the Fair will fail to examine it.

THE WEED SEWING MACHINES.

None of the several sewing machines on exhibition at the Fair yesterday attracted more attention than the Weed machines exhibited by Major H. H. Long, the indefatigable agent in this city for the Weed company. It doubtless will be remembered that this good man attracted much attention at the Paris Exhibition, and carried away high honors. Many of the machines have demonstrated their superiority in active use in this neighborhood, and those having knowledge of their adaptability to all kinds of sewing, give it the highest encomiums. Its exceeding simple in its construction, and will last through the hard usage of a life time. Of late the demand for the Weed Sewing Machine has been very great, and the extensive manufactory of the Company has been kept running to its fullest capacity. The public is more or less interested in the various sewing machines competing with each other for favor, and we invite close inspection of the Weed machines now on exhibition at the Fair. The office of the agency is at No. 112 Grant street, where a full stock of the machines is kept on hand for sale at very reasonable prices. Major Long will be in attendance most of the time at the Fair ground, and will gladly explain the advantages and peculiarities of the Weed machine to all who call, and will receive those ordered at the Fair ground at the agency, in the city.

ANDERSON, COOK & CO.

Anderson, Cook & Co., the proprietors of this establishment,—one of the largest in point of capacity in the country,—have on exhibition their celebrated cast steel, in bars, and manufactured into tools and implements. Among other articles is a large assortment of forty-two inch cast steel, which we have already alluded; also, most superb buggy springs, alarm bells, pen knives, the finest of files and hand and finishing surgical instruments, watch springs, together with a variety of fine cutlery, all made of the steel produced by the works referred to, affording most satisfactory proof of the rapid advancement made in this locality in the manufacture of steel. A few years ago we were almost entirely dependent upon Europe for this material, but the spirit of enterprise has resulted in a new order of things, and the Atlantic Steel Works of Anderson, Cook & Co., with others in this locality, now furnish, in a large measure, the steel formerly drawn from England, and that, too, of even better quality. Our citizens, therefore, should view with much pride as clearly depicted the tangible evidence of improvement shown by Messrs. Anderson, Cook & Co. They are largely engaged in the manufacture of forks, rakes and pitch fork teeth, including round, oval and Coleman's patented fluted teeth, believed to be the strongest yet applied to any hand or best refined cast steel, common plow and spring steel, spring axles, in short, all manner of steel and forging to any known purpose. No one visiting the Fair should omit to examine their productions.

BEATIFUL PENMANSHIP.

An easy and graceful penaman, one who can write a fair flowing and intelligible hand, has a future before him, and is to be estimated. He is sure of a remunerative situation in any of the leading mercantile houses, and has entered the profession of a science which will prove a great blessing to him. There are many systems adopted in the education of youth, but the most important branch of education, and none are more worthy of praise and endorsement than that taught by Professor N. W. Shafter, Principal of the well known "Shafter Commercial College," St. Clair street. We were present yesterday while he was executing specimens of writing for the purpose of inviting visitors, and can lend hearty testimony to his skill as an artist. He writes with a flourish and elegance of style, and the most brilliant and faultless letters with a single movement, which he makes with great facility and rapidity. His teaches to his pupils, and with such success that he already justly claims many of the best penmen of the city as graduates from his college. Parents having boys to educate and prepare for business, can send them to no better place where they will receive better training than at Shafter's. Visitors at the Fair should not fail to examine his specimens, and read Professor Schaffer's exceptions with the pen.

THE AMERICAN IRON WORKS.

To this local establishment, the largest merchants bar mill in the country we must again refer. The proprietors Messrs. Jones & Laughlins, as we have already stated, possess the exclusive right to the patent for rolling iron and steel in a cold state, which process originated in their works. The importance of this improvement, although perhaps sufficiently apparent from the specimens exhibited in Agricultural Hall, is best evidenced by its extensive use throughout the United States and Europe. The cold rolled material is used for spindles, shafting, piston rods, and mower and reaper finger bars. It is produced by the use of powerful and peculiarly constructed machinery, by which cold iron can be rolled and drawn into any of the shapes ordinarily given to hot iron by rollers. The effect of this process is to compress and compact together the fibres of the metal to such an extent as to greatly increase its strength, hardness, elasticity &c., as has been abundantly shown in experimental tests made by eminent engineers of the United States and Great Britain. Another very great advantage of this process is that it also produces a highly polished and perfectly smooth, bright surface, and finishes the bar or rod as straight and true as if turned in a lathe or planed. The attention of manufacturers of reaping and mowing machines has very naturally been directed to this cold rolled material as adapted to cutter and finger bars, giving them greater strength and more rigidity and elasticity, and Jones & Laughlins, to meet the requirements of the trade, have engaged in the manufacture of the same, or to speak, for reaping and mowing machines We may state, as indicating the appreciation of the profound merits of the invention, that during the past year the proprietors have furnished to customers nearly fifty thousand of the patent cold rolled finger bars, required in the manufacture of reaping and mowing machines.

CALIFORNIA WINES.

The excellence and superiority of the California wines, to which we have more recently generally established in this neighborhood, and we were right glad to notice, yesterday, the fine display of "bottled juice" found in Domestic Hall. A peculiarity of these domestic wines is their purity, pale in color they are far superior to most of the famous French wines. The display is in charge of Mr. A. M. Hackett, agent for the Company, in attendance at the Fair. He can be found at the Union Depot Hotel, or at the booth assigned him at the Fair. The office of the company is located at No. 415 Liberty street, New York, a fact which should be remembered by persons who contemplate ordering any of the superior wines of this way. Dealers should not hesitate to discard foreign wines in a great measure for the more profitable and purer home manufactures of the California Company. They offer the following, Sweet, Angelica, Muscatel, Port, dry and sweet, and especially recommended for invalids' use. Sparkling Catawba, a most excellent tonic; Claret, Catawba, sparkling Champagne, still Champagne and Angelica, a quality not to better than many offered of their wines.

HARDWARE, CUTLERY, &c.

James Bown, 137 Wood street, conducts one of the largest and best appointed hardware and cutlery establishments in Western Pennsylvania, accommodating a very large trade. Recently, in order to keep pace with his rapidly increasing business, he has made very material improvements to his establishment, in the way of providing additional sales rooms, and his place of business in this regard may now be said to be complete. The advantages thus secured will contribute greatly to the convenience of country merchants in making up their orders, in the saving of time and the facility with which they can make selections of articles desired. It will be borne in mind that Mr. Bown is largely engaged in the manufacture of articles in his line of business, and of a style, finish and quality, which have secured for him a high reputation. The stock in store is sufficiently large and complete, comprising every article in the way of tools, saddlery, gre arms, in fact everything connected with, or which one would look to find in a first class establishment of the kind. Fair visitors should not omit, if they desire anything in his line, to leave Mr. Bown with a call, at No. 136 Wood street.

J. W. ELLIOTT & SON.

In the way of small fruits and the productions of their Nursery, this firm make an exceedingly attractive display at the Floral Tent, affording opportunity for gardeners and farmers to see for themselves the latest novelties in the Horticultural line. The exhibition comprises quite a variety, and is in full keeping with the wide reputation which this firm enjoys as horticulturists. We have spoken of the good taste displayed in arranging that portion of the Fair grounds devoted to floral display, and would again remind fair visitors that credit for this is due to the Messrs. Elliott. These gentlemen are present to furnish grape vines of all the principal varieties, among which may be named the Concord, Ives' Seedling, Hartford Prolific, Creveling, Ions, Isabella, Catawba, Delaware, &c. They also furnish strawberry plants on all the be t varieties, including the Cumberland, No. 706, Fillmore, Triomphe de Grand, and others. Of blackberry plants we note the Rochelle, Wilson, and Kittan ning, and of raspberries the Philadelphia and Black Cap. City office and nursery depot, 199 Market street; P. O. box No. 677, Pittsburgh, Pa.

FAIRBANK'S SCALES.

Perhaps no manufacture in the country deservedly occupies a higher position in the estimation of the commercial public than the celebrated Fairbanks scales, which are on exhibition in the proper department. They have long enjoyed a reputation such as to warrant them in claiming the title of the standard scales of the world, and have more than successfully competed with all others for popular favor. No scales more generally in use in the country and we have never yet heard a single objection urged against their truthfulness and precision. They are of all sizes, capable of weighing the tiny parcel of saline drachm or the ton burden. In point of economy most superior and substantial materials, ... regulated and not burdened with complicated machinery, they will last a life time and seldom or never get out of order. The tradesmen who has exhibited in use can never justly be accused of false weights, as they are true to the ounce, and register weight with unswerving fidelity. The grain scale is specially worthy of notice inasmuch as it is used in the great grain marts, in preference to all others in the measurement of cereals. Another scale is especially worthy of note, and that is the Butcher's scale, which should be generally adopted by our readers of steaks and mutton chops. It is peculiarly adapted for that purpose and if more generally used there would be less complaint on the score of light weights. The scales are manufactured by Messrs. Fairbanks, Morse & Co., whose office is at the corner of Wood and Second streets. Let no visitor fail to see the celebrated Fairbanks scales, and if desirous of becoming purchasers of any of the styles exhibited, they can leave their orders with the gentleman in attendance, or call at the city office of the Company.

COW MILKING MACHINE.

Readers will doubtless stare in astonishment at the above caption, and yet there is on exhibition at Mechanics Hall a veritable machine for milking cows by machinery. It is practical. There is no humbug about it, as it performs the work as well as machinery accomplishes anything which might be slowly done with the hand. By its use one man can successfully attend to the milking of extensive dairies of seventy to an hundred cows. It can be arranged to milk any number at the same time, and to milk them effectually. All that is required is to drive the cows into the stable, and the stanchions and adjust the milkers, and the work is accomplished even better than by the hand. Call and see the machine and be satisfied that the labor of the fair is almost completely obviated by the introduction of this great mechanical triumph. Full information will be given by Mr. Ira Gray, Secretary of the Hydraulic Cow Milking Machine Company, 371 Broadway, New York. This we conceive to be the most novel and attractive exhibition on the ground, and is very worthy a visit. Do not fail to call and see it.

PLASTER CEMENT SLATE ROOFING.

There is on exhibition in Mechanics' Hall a specimen of invaluable Plaster Cement Roofing, which possesses many points of merit. It is a composition of slate and coal tar, and its light, plastic and certainly fire proof, while it is cheap, durable and easily applied. It has rendered satisfaction wherever tried and when properly understood will be very generally adopted. It costs much less than shingles or gravel roofing, and its only cost is the Gas Pipe Work" of William Smith, located in the Ninth Ward, corners of Carroll and Smaliman streets, this city. These works have lately, by the application of improved machinery, been greatly accelerated for the superiority and cheapness of the pipe produced, and the specimens exhibited are highly creditable to the ingenuity and the introduction of patents Mr. Smith is enabled to manufacture all kinds of pipe with the greatest facility. The works have been inches in diameter, quite as well calculated for water and gas as any produced elsewhere. Besides supplying the Pittsburgh and Allegheny city during the past year with an aggregate of twelve miles of pipe, he has supplied Cincinnati, Columbus, Saganaw, Kalamazoo, Bloomington, and thirty or forty other places. He has just completed a contract to supply the city of Chicago with five hundred tons of pipe for the new water works. Although the capacity of his works is fifty tons daily, it has been found impossible to supply the rapidly increasing contracts, and an order for fifty thousand feet received this week was refused. The exhibition of pipe is one of the largest of the kind in the country and a credit to our city. A new patent for improvements in machinery for making pipe has been granted and will be introduced at once. Mr. Smith desires to enlarge his establishment, and is about to erect an addition which, when ready, will give employment to a large number of mechanics and laborers.
